

Readers Club

The Sakthi Polytechnic College Readers Club is established to promote reading habits and literary appreciation among students. It provides a structured platform for students to explore diverse literary works, engage in discussions, and improve their intellectual and communication skills. The club organizes activities such as book discussions, author interactions, and visits to book exhibitions, creating opportunities for active literary engagement. By encouraging students to read widely and share their views, the Readers Club fosters a vibrant and inclusive reading community on campus. Participation in the Readers Club enhances students' academic growth, critical thinking, and overall learning experience. The club is open to all students who are interested in reading and wish to develop their analytical and expressive abilities through collaborative learning.
